Merchant's Fine Wine

Merchant's Fine Wine in Dearborn is not only a terrific place to get a great bottle of "juice," but a great spot to learn about wine. John Lossia, owner and resident wine guru, is one of the best. Lossia has tasted more wine than most people even know exists. When patrons stop by, he takes the time to discover what they like, what they're eating (if anything) with the wine and what their budget is. Merchant's also has one of the best selections of beer in the state.
